WHAT ARE WE TRYING TO ACCOMPLISH ?

- We want to improve school website by adding a function of an Academic Advising in Higher Education to <https://elearning.cadt.edu.kh/>
- And for the information of an advisor will be provided in
<https://www.cadt.edu.kh/>

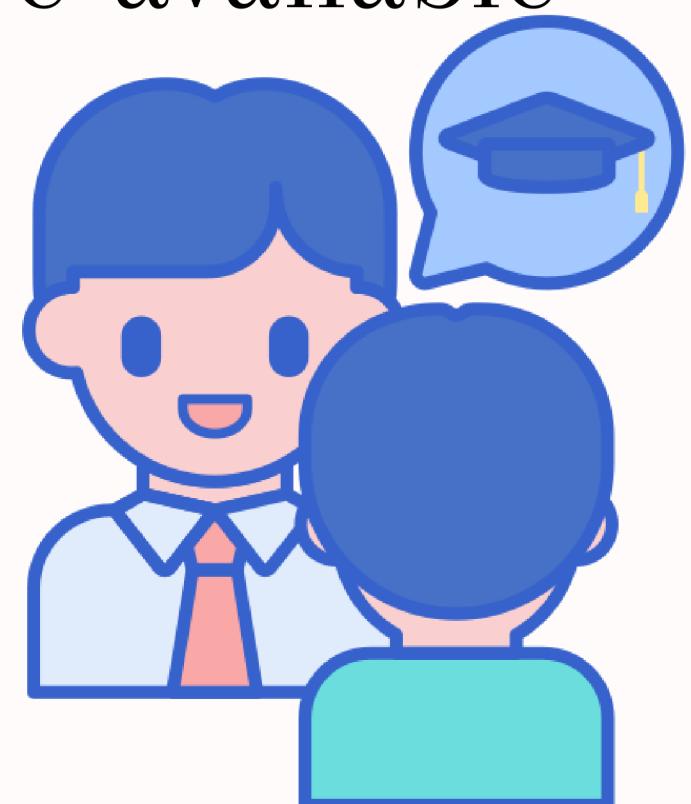

Student's life at the university level is different from what they have been used to in the lower levels. It is characterized by a lot of freedom and independence which can be quite overwhelming for some students.

What is an Academic Advisor ?

- Academic advisor refers to someone under the Registrar's Office that provides students with information pertaining to their degree, courses and university regulations. Advisors help students navigate academic and personal concerns that may influence their academic performance. Advisors are available to meet with free of charge on campus.

PROVIDING AN ADVISOR

- Bring holistic support to students as they navigate their higher education to post grad journey
- Provide advice on how to best manage stress, anxiety, and other emotional issues
- Advisors assist in monitoring academic progress
- Advisors can help you find opportunities
- Advisors want to see you succeed
- Advisors can help you find opportunities
- send out a newsletter every other week that provides updates, resources, opportunities and events as well

Introducing Dr. Jane Smith

Jane Smith

Advisor, Cambodia Academy of Digital Technology (CADT)

Dr. Jane Smith is an advisor for the CADT university, where he provides guidance and support to students who are interested in pursuing careers in computer-aided design and technology. He has over 10 years of experience in the field, having worked as a senior designer and project manager for several leading companies. He is also a certified instructor and trainer for various CAD software and tools, such as AutoCAD, SolidWorks, SketchUp, and Revit.

Dr. Smith holds a PhD in mechanical engineering from MIT, where he specialized in computational design and optimization. He has published several papers and articles on topics related to CAD, such as geometric modeling, simulation, visualization, and fabrication. He is also a frequent speaker and presenter at conferences and workshops around the world.

As an advisor for the CADT university, Dr. Smith helps students plan their academic and career paths, as well as connect them with mentors, internships, and job opportunities. He also organizes seminars, webinars, and guest lectures for students to learn from industry experts and professionals. He is passionate about inspiring and empowering the next generation of CAD designers and innovators.
